

My portrait

In this essay, I will describe briefly myself in order to create my portrait.

I will start by describing my personality and then I will describe my physical appearance.

First of all, I can say that I am a patient, sociable, ambitious person, who always wants to surpass himself. Secondly, I try to be better with those around me, helping them with what I can. Before making a decision, I think a lot about what can happen after this decision, I do not let my emotions decide for me. I like to visit new places, to meet new people, to learn new things.

As for my physical appearance, I have a pale face, with dark hair and green eyes. I'm not a very skinny person, not very fat, I'm somewhere between them and I'm 1.85 meters tall.

In conclusion, I can say that, an physical and moral portrait could always raise someone's self-confidence.
