

Job Interview at Pixelbois Company

Popescu Paullo Robertto Karloss

Group 231

Interviewer: Good morning and thank you for applying to us. Before we start the interview, we want to know a few about you. First of all, why are you passionate about coding? When did it start to attract you?

Applicant: Good morning. Yes, of course. My name is Popescu Paullo Robertto Karloss, I live in Romania, my hometown being Bucharest. At the moment, I'm a 2nd year student at the University of Bucharest and I'm looking to get my bachelor's degree in Computer Science. A year before I finished high school, I can say that I managed to launch a game on Google Play on my own. After this achievement the hobby of coding became a passion for me. So I decided that I had to continue this in the future, which led me to choose a faculty with a bachelor's degree in Computer Science.

Interviewer: Thank you for letting us know these things about you. Now, we want to know what made you apply for this position at our company.

Applicant: I would say that compared to other people of my age, I have a lot of knowledge in the area of game development. I also like to work in a team, which is an essential thing, in my opinion for this job.

Interviewer: What do you know about our company? Can you briefly describe what we do?

Applicant: I have known this company for a very long time, since it was called Pizza Fest (2016). You deal with the development of software applications for mobile and desktop. I also know that you launched a new game called Palm Ride this year, which impressed me a lot.

Interviewer: We're glad to hear you like what we're doing here. Speaking of game development, what do you think about the current game market? Do you think that people will still play the games made at this time in a few years?

Applicant: I have known this company for a very long time, since it was called Pizza Fest (2016). You deal with the development of software applications for mobile and desktop. I also know that you launched a new game called Palm Ride this year, which impressed me a lot.

Interviewer: Speaking of game development, what do you think about the current game market? Do you think that people will still play the games made at this time in a few years?

Applicant: I believe that, the gaming environment is constantly evolving, and that it will never disappear. All we have to do is to satisfy people with games that they wish. And yes, people will definitely play the games that have been released in the past, as long as they like them.

Interviewer: Wow, we are very impressed with the way you answered our questions today! Do you have any questions for us, before we shedule you for tehcnical interview?

Applicant: Yes, I have a few questions. Can you briefly describe to me what a day spent at Pixelboi company looks like?

Interviewer: Sure, as a game developer, I can say that we have a very flexible program. We have a 30 minute break every 2 hours. During that time you can eat in the company's canteen or play games on PS5 with your colleagues.

Applicant: Very cool! Also, is it possible to change locations during an internship at your company?

Interviewer: Yes, sure, you could always be relocated to one of our offices you wish so. This year a colleague from our company moved to Los Angeles to work from there. Any more questions or we should continue now with your scheduling for technical interview?

Applicant: No, that would be all. What is the technical interview?

Interviewer: The technical interview involves checking your coding skills. This will be handled by a colleague named Silviu, most likely.

Applicant: Thank you so much for this interview. I hope I will do great on the technical interview just like today. Have a great day!

Interviewer: Have a great day too!
